Sherm Dined With Tycoon's Business Pals

Goldfine Swears Adams "Happened" To Be in New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators developed today that Bernard Goldfine was entertaining a group of business associates at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel in 1954 when Sherman Adams was also his guest here.

Goldfine, who was in trouble with the Federal Trade Commission at the time, swore that Adams did not come to New York by prearrangement to meet with him and his business associates. He said Adams, his close friend and No. 1 aide to President Eisenhower, just happened to be in New York and accepted his hospitality at the hotel.

The Boston textile man was under questioning by the special House subcommittee exploring the kind of treatment he has received from federal regulatory agencies and the question of whether the agencies have been influenced by his friendship with Adams.

Both Goldfine and Adams have denied there was ever any attempt at influence or that Goldfine got preferred treatment.

In explanation of a $1600 bill he got from the Waldorf Astoria, part of it for entertaining Adams, Goldfine told the House group: "I had invited about seven or eight people that I do business with... they were not in political life."

"They were my guests, and Gov. Adams and his wife happened to be in New York, and I invited them to be my guests for dinner."

Goldfine, Boston millionaire textile man, showed up on time for the 10 a. m. hearing. He had had an extra day to rest up with postponement of Tuesday's hearings.

The delay was granted on a plea that the 67-year-old Goldfine was exhausted by such weekend excitement as the exposure of an attempt by a committee staff investigator to listen on a hotel room conversation of Goldfine aides and the reported theft of some of Goldfine's papers.

At the outset, Goldfine and his attorney, Roger Robb, agreed that some records demanded by Chairman Oren Harris would be supplied.

Harris also asked the Boston industrialist to tell about 33 names the subcommittee put in the public record last week.

The subcommittee said the list included persons who were in White House and Capitol Hill offices. Goldfine said he sent checks to these people at Christmas time.

Goldfine's lawyers indicated their man would tell what happened to nearly $777,000 worth of his companies' checks which remained uncashed for years. But they also indicated he would say mum—on grounds it's not the subcommittee's business—as to why the checks were handled that way.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) says his House investigators have a right to delve into the checks because they were bought by Goldfine holding and textile companies which are subject to federal regulatory agencies under investigation.

Rich Area Near Lima Seeks Vote To Incorporate

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Two townships adjacent to Lima have moved to incorporate new villages to block annexation plans of the city of Lima.

Shawnee and Bath Townships, where some tax rich industries are situated, have filed petitions of incorporation with their township trustees. Shawnee Township wants to incorporate the "Village of Shawnee" and Bath Township the "Village of Bath."

Public hearings on the incorporation issues are scheduled for July 30. Should the trustees give the expected approval, a special election could be called for a vote on the matter. However, in order to avoid the expense of a special election, the balloting probably would be switched to the November election if the proposals get approval of the trustees.

Miami Seeks Bright Students for Plan

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Officials of Miami University's experimental teaching program said Tuesday they still seek bright youngsters in southwest Ohio to try a new program next fall. The program aims to allow promising high school seniors to also take one college freshman course at centers in Montgomery, Butler and Hamilton counties.

THREE OF THE NINE U. S. airmen released by the Russians head for the airport in Astara, Iran, for a trip to Teheran and then to Wiesbaden, Germany. The grim and exhausted airmen, held captive for 11 days, said Soviet jet fighters shot down their unarmed transport plane and kept firing even after crewmen bailed out.

Alleged Mobster Ducks Racket Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louis Romano, alleged Capone mobster, invoked the Fifth Amendment today in refusing to answer questions at Senate hearings on the racket infested Chicago restaurant industry.

The committee heard testimony Tuesday that Frank (The Enforcer) Nitti, an overlord of Chicago crime, forced Romano into the labor movement as boss of the downtown Chicago Bartenders Union.

Use of Plane Draws Fire

White House Says It's for U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today defended the use of military planes to return Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower to Washington Tuesday from a Wisconsin fishing trip.

Anne Wheaton, associate press secretary, said use of the government planes was arranged for the convenience of the government and in order to give the President's brother time for consultations with the State Department before he leaves Saturday on a delayed goodwill visit to Central America.

Mrs. Wheaton said the trip had been planned to start about July 15, but was advanced last Monday to this coming weekend.

Two small military planes were used in returning Dr. Eisenhower's party from Wisconsin Land O'Lakes region to Wausau, Wis. A third was used for the flight to Washington.

Mrs. Wheaton issued a brief statement after a Wisconsin Democratic nominee had protested against using military planes for the "personal travel" of the President's relatives.

In Chicago, a 5th Army spokesman said the request for the aircraft used by Milton Eisenhower came from a White House military aide.

Atlas CBM Readied

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The first fully powered Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile probably will be ready for launching soon.

The 75-foot rocket, biggest ballistic weapon in the U. S. arsenal, roared through what appeared to be a successful ground or static test Tuesday.

If Alaska Comes In, Heart Of U. S. Will Move to Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Alaska comes in as the 49th state, the geographic heart of the United States may no longer be in the United States at all.

It may be in southwestern Canada—or even in the Pacific Ocean, somewhere off the coast of Washington state.

These were preliminary guesses today of officials of the U. S. Geological Survey and the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Present position of the center is somewhere near Lebanon, Kan. The geographic center is defined as "the point at which the United States would balance if it were all the same thickness and were suspended on a pinpoint." One way of figuring it is simply to take a map of the United States, paste it on a cardboard and then find the center of gravity by placing your map on a pinpoint.

Sounds easy, but Alaska presents complications for such a stunt, because there is no continuous land connection between Alaska and the rest of the United States. A portion of Canada pops up in between.

A government expert told a reporter one conceivable way of finding the geographic center of a United States with Alaska would be to attach the Alaskan area to your U. S. map by means of a light, aluminum wire and then do your balancing.

Don Boley, 22, scrambled down a lowered rope to Sanders' side Tuesday. He gave the trapped man the first food and water he had had in four days.

Bewley volunteered to join the marooned man despite the danger of jagged rocks sawing into the rope which supported him.

Rescue groups had written off an attempt to reach the man from above because of the danger of starting a cascade of loose rock.

Stalled by the precipitous canyon walls, rescuers called on an Army helicopter from Ft. Carson, Colo.

The shelf where the one man has been trapped since Friday slopes downward at a 45-degree angle from the canyon wall. Below is a 600-foot free fall to the base of the canyon.

The committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) voiced curiosity about Teitelbaum's reasons for hiring Romano as the restaurant association's labor expert after a state court had ousted Romano and placed Local 278 in receivership.

Teitelbaum was a major witness in a House investigation of tax scandals in the Truman administration, and now lives in Hollywood, Calif. Romano, the committee said, lives in Miami.

As the hearings got under way, Donald Strang, owner of a Niles, Ill., restaurant, testified that Illinois state police told him they could do nothing about union violence at his restaurant because they had been called off by the governor's office.

He said this was in June 1952, during the administration of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, but he said he didn't know who in the governor's office gave the order.

In Chicago, his statement drew quick denials from Thomas O'Donnell, who was state police superintendent that year, and Carl McGowna, who was Stevenson's administrative assistant.

Strang, who runs three restaurants in Cleveland and one in Niles outside Chicago, said his troubles with Local 450 of the Restaurant Workers Union, then run by mobster Claude Maddox, now dead.

Strang said he had defied the union's demands that he secretly force his employees to join. He said he learned later that the local, without consulting either him or the employees, enrolled them in its books as dues paying members.

And, he said, he learned that a $2,240 fee he had paid to Teitelbaum for helping in the negotiations actually was used to pay their dues.

Rescuers Seek To Remove Trapped Man

Companion's Body Discovered Near Canyon Floor

ANTONIO, Colo. (AP) — Rescue teams moved today along routes above and below a man trapped on a narrow shelf of rock where he has been stuck for five days.

One group at the base of cavernous Conejos Canyon found the body of the trapped man's companion Tuesday, even as the heights above them turned back new efforts to reach the stranded man. Winds which moan eerily through the dark gorge thwarted a helicopter rescue at dusk Tuesday.

The body was identified by rescuers as that of William E. Garver, 38, auditor for the University of New Mexico.

Garver and John Sanders, 35, Albuquerque, were returning from a fishing trip when they apparently fell from a perilous mountain trail five days ago. The man at the ledge 600 feet from the bottom of the canyon has identified himself as Sanders to members of the rescue team.

Don Boley, 22, scrambled down a lowered rope to Sanders' side Tuesday. He gave the trapped man the first food and water he had had in four days.

Bewley volunteered to join the marooned man despite the danger of jagged rocks sawing into the rope which supported him.

Guard Leader Cool on Cut In Strength

WASHINGTON (AP)—A National Guard leader predicts a cool reception for a compromise Army plan to cut Guard strength by an estimated 40,000 men.

Maj. Gen. Maxwell E. Rich, president of the Adjutants General Assn., said Tuesday night he doubts that the plan announced Tuesday by the Army will be acceptable to the National Guard.

The Army said the new plan was worked out after months of discussions with state governors and their National Guard leaders.

Rich, adjutant general of Utah and current president of the organization of state Guard chiefs, said in a statement that a special meeting of adjutants generals has been called for July 14-15 to study the plan.

Under the compromise announced by Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker, all 27 Guard divisions will be retained but reorganized along atomic age patterns—16 of them at reduced strength.

The Army didn't specify completely how the manpower cuts will be made, saying it will be up to the states to work it out.

Covered Wagon Heads for Frisco With 3 Students

ENNIS, Tex. (AP)—Three adventure-minded college students from the Texas Gulf Coast camped here Tuesday night on a Beaumont - to-San Francisco-or-bust trek by covered wagon.

Though outfitted in complete cowboy regalia, they readily admitted they had never driven a wagon, fixed a broken axle or shoed a mule or horse until they headed west.

"We're learning and so are the mules," said Jerry McElroy, 19, Fort Neches, Tex.

His companions are Bill Hickman, 18, Nederland, Tex., and Bob Williams, 18, Grove, Tex. All three are students at Lamar Tech at Beaumont, about 326 miles from here.

McElroy said they got the idea for their trip after learning of a trust fund that had been set up for persons who traveled to California and settled.

When inquiries showed the fund had been dissolved, they decided to make the trip anyway for the fun and experience. With some enterprise they won the backing of the Highway 287 Assn.

Phone Rate Case To Be Explained

Council To Be Told About Hike Request

Paul Dougherty, manager of the Washington C. H. office of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., is expected to go before City Council Wednesday night to present his company's case for a telephone rate hike.

Ohio Bell has made application with the Public Utilities Commission for rate increases throughout Ohio. C. L. Musser, council vice-chairman, said he understands Dougherty plans to explain the nature of the raise and the company's reason for requesting it. The rate would increase gross revenue about 16 per cent around the state.

Musser will preside in the absence of Ben Norris, chairman, who is out of town. The meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. in the City Hall.

Baby Snatched From Heiress

NEW YORK (AP) — Gregg Suarez, whose marriage to his 18-year-old British heiress wife has been reported on the rocks, snatched their baby daughter from her arms Tuesday at Idlewild Airport.

Juarez, 33, an interior decorator, pushed his wife onto a plane and grabbed the baby, 8-month-old Bianca, just before the plane was to take off for Nassau, the Bahamas.

He also handed Mrs. Suarez separation papers.

His wife, the former Frederika (Bobo) Sigrist, left the plane before it took off, and hurried away. "She can go if she likes," Juarez told newsmen, "but she can't have Bianca. I love the baby. I'm going to protect her American citizenship."

Juarez said he returned to his rented estate at Locust Valley, N.Y., on Long Island, Tuesday and found his wife and child gone. He drove to the airport to intercept them.

His wife has a home in Nassau. Juarez said he would take his wife back "if she wants to come back and be a proper wife and mother and live within our means and take up her domestic duties."

Mrs. Juarez's father, Frederik Sigrist, was a founder of the L. W. Aircraft Co., British plane manufacturers. He died last year, leaving an estate of about five million dollars.

The Juarezes eloped in January 1957.

Speechless Politics

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) — "Feed 'em and leave 'em speechless" that's the motto of Leavenworth County Republicans. More than 700 people packed the American Legion hall for a political supper without speeches Tuesday night. Candidates simply went from table to table, passing out cards and shaking hands.

Ohio State Life 'Guilty', But Charges Are Withheld

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Insurance Supt. Arthur L. Vorys today found Ohio State Life Insurance Co. guilty of a technical violation of an insurance law, but declined to press criminal charges "in the public interest."

The violation—publication of a misleading financial statement—was charged both to the company and its president, Frederick E. Jones of Columbus.

"Whitewash," was the comment of attorney Robert Dow Hamilton of Columbus who filed the charges with Vorys against Ohio State Life and Jones.

Hamilton added: "The attempt of Mr. Jones and Ohio State Life to gain control of Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Co. and its surplus funds still must be adjudicated in a U. S. District Court."

Hamilton's charge that Ohio State Life's 1957 financial statement was "false, misleading and fraudulent" arose from the company's ownership of more than 99 per cent of Columbus Mutual's stock.

Records show Ohio State Life paid $1,300 a share for the stock or a total of $6,441,900. But its financial statement to the Insurance Department as to the value of the Columbus Mutual stock it owned did not correspond with a financial statement presented to stockholders last Jan. 23, almost a year later.

The National Assn. of Insurance Commissioners held that the top value of one share of Columbus Mutual stock is only $333.

Hamilton, who represents a group of Columbus Mutual policy holders and another group of Ohio State Life stockholders, cited the differences in the two financial statements. He demanded that Vorys hold a hearing to determine whether criminal charges should be brought.

In his decision made public today, Vorys pointed out that Ohio State Life amended its financial statement to the Insurance Department by bringing into line the value of Columbus Mutual stock within eight days after he brought the matter to the attention of company officials.

His lengthy decision concluded: "In view of my appraisal of the facts, the law and all the circumstances surrounding the charge made, it is my decision that, while there may be sufficient evidence to support a finding of technical violation of the statute, there is not sufficient justification to support action by me in instituting a criminal prosecution against the company. I do not believe it would be in the public interest."

He said "such prosecution... might do great harm by unjustifiably undermining public confidence in a sound institution and thereby endanger the funds of those who have already become its policy holders."

Communism Warning Given

Normal Differences Expected, He Says

OTTAWA (AP) — President Eisenhower told Canada's Parliament today that differences between the two neighbor nations can be solved and must not be allowed to overshadow the transcendent importance of free world cooperation in the winning of the global struggle against communism.

"We stand together at a pivotal point in history," Eisenhower told a warmly applauding Parliament. He was interrupted 10 times during his speech by members' applause and the traditional desk thumping.

"All that we Canadians and Americans, and those who went before us, have built, all that we believe in, is challenged as it has never been challenged before. The new horizons of competition range from the polar areas and extend to the infinity of outer space."

In conciliatory terms, the President got down to specific points of difference—U. S. wheat exports, American restrictions on oil imports, Canada's trade imbalance with the United States, and the heavy flow of American investment capital to Canada.

"There is no cause to be surprised or disturbed," Eisenhower said, "to discover that differences occasionally arise between the two nations."

But he said such differences can be talked out in friendship.

The setting for the presidential address was the great oak and stone chamber of the House of Commons in towering Parliament Building—a spot which has resounded more and more with criticism of the United States and its policies.

In awareness of such criticism, Eisenhower came to the Canadian capital Tuesday to attempt to strengthen ties of friendship which have been slipping.

Eisenhower was introduced by Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, with whom he is consulting on problems affecting the two nations.

The President made no mention in his address of a possible new channel for cooperation, in the realm of defense, through creation of joint Canadian-American Cabinet Committee on Defense.

Tentative fashion the idea of setting up such a committee in the first of their official talks Tuesday. Details and decisions were reserved for later talks.

Super-Speed Fighter Due

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The F108 chemically fueled fighter will carry at least two atomic warhead guided missiles to blast enemy bombers; while they are still more than a thousand miles from American soil.

Designed for a speed faster than three times that of sound, the plane is expected when completed to be able to take off from U. S. bases in time to intercept bombers at that distance.

New details on the fantastic, long-range interceptor and the B70 strategic bomber, both using the same high-energy fuel engines have become available in official and unofficial sources.

The Air Force is using much the same development-production technique applied to its missile program to expedite the time when the chemical fuel, high performance fighters and bombers will go into service. While development is being pushed, the groundwork for actual production of planes and power plants is being laid. However, the first flight of a chemically fueled plane still may be more than two years away.

North American Aviation, Inc., has the contracts for both the F108 and B70.

An announcement is expected shortly formally assigning the engine contract to the General Electric Co. That company already has started design work on an engine to use the new exotic fuel.

They appealed Rep. Porter W. Rodino (D-N.J.), who said he would try to get the government to repay the $1,540.

Welfare Cases Decrease Here

Relief Costs Drop
But Medical Care Up

With the coming of warmer weather, there has been a steady month-by-month reduction in the number of cases handled by the Fayette County Welfare Department.

According to reports filed for the past three months by Mrs. Beryl Cockerill, director of the department, April, May and June have shown fewer calls for aid. This is usual after the cold and stormy winter months she said.

In April the department handled 124 cases which, the report showed, cost $2,373.04 for home care and $1,668.92 for medical and hospital cases.

In May 115 cases were given attention with costs dropping to $1,896.80 for home care and slightly increasing to $1,839.06 for hospital and medical cases.

In June home care cases required expenditures of $1,593.52 and for hospital and medical care rose to $2,844.16.

The department's expenses cover general welfare needs of families, including children, due to heads of families being unemployed.

Some of the medical and hospital care was to cover expenses for crippled children, the report showed.

None of this however has anything to do with the regular expenses of the Child Welfare Department, which is separate and in which expenses are handled through the Child Welfare Board, which is in control of the Children's Home. The Child Welfare Board's expenditures also cover foster home care where children who are wards of the county, are placed by Juvenile Court decree.

Dem Hopfuls Blast O'Neill, Switch Chairs

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Michael V. DiSalle, Stephen M. Young and a host of other state Democratic candidates used a two-plateau system Tuesday in their campaign attack in the Seventh Congressional District.

DiSalle, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, took part of the entourage to Springfield, and Young, seeking a U. S. Senate seat, went to Xenia to speak Tuesday night. After their talks they switched audiences and repeated their addresses.

DiSalle charged that Gov. C. William O'Neill failed to live up to a 1956 campaign promise to increase old age assistance. He said O'Neill declared in Cleveland that old age assistance must be based on need and not fixed payments.

The Toledo Democrat said the governor, in his message to the Legislature in January 1957, asked the legislators to go slow in removing the $65 monthly old age aid maximum, and that O'Neill since then failed to keep his promise to increase the payments.

The candidate said he thinks removing the $65 ceiling would not make much change in the state's cost of such aid since the number of old age pensioners is being reduced as more people go on social security.

Young accused his Republican opponent, Sen. John W. Bricker, of being too friendly with railroad, real estate and Texas oil lobbies.

He also said Bricker voted against the liberalization of social security benefits and the St. Lawrence Seaway, and accused Bricker of being "the leader in the U.S. Senate in the fight to foist pay TV in the home."

After making stops at Lebanon, Wilmington, London, Marysville, Russell's Point, Urbana and Springfield Tuesday, the caravan moved into the seven-county Fourth Congressional District today. Stops were scheduled at Eaton, Troy, Greenville, Celina, Wapakoneta, Lima and Sidney.

O'Neill Blasts Right Back!

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill today declared his Democratic opponent is being irresponsible in his campaign comments on old age pensions.

O'Neill told newsmen at a press conference today: "I recommended to the 1957 legislature the lifting of the ceiling. Every Democrat except one on the House Finance Committee voted against lifting the ceiling."

"Since then, the state has lost 15 million dollars in sales tax due to the recession. Lifting the ceiling would cost about six million dollars a year."

News Strike Ends

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The American Newspaper Guild and the Philadelphia Inquirer agreed on a new two-year contract Tuesday, ending a 38-day strike.

SABINA — Leonard Huffman, 55, of Sabina, died suddenly at 3 p. m. Tuesday while at work in the Armour Co. Stockyards here. Death came before he could be moved into the office. He is survived by his wife, Lillie Mae Fellers Huffman; two sons, Ronald of near Sabina and Kenneth at home; and a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Carr of Casstown.

He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Callie Cline of Dayton, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Gertie Gray of London and Mrs. Maude Stewart of Sabina.

Charles Wallace Porter

Charles Wallace Porter, 73, of Sarasota, Fla., a former Bloomington school teacher, died at 2:30 p. m. Monday in Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, according to word just received here by relatives.

He had been infirm health for several years, they said, and probably had gone to the hospital in Baltimore for treatment.

He was born near New Holland, but moved to Bloomington with his family when a child. He went through the Bloomington schools and later taught there until World War I. After the war, he went to Washington, D. C. where he was employed by the government until he retired about 10 years ago and moved to Florida.

BUC Claims Drop Third Straight Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The number of persons drawing unemployment benefits from the state dropped slightly last week for the third straight week. But about half of the drop probably was due to persons exhausting their eligibility rather than to a decline in unemployment.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today that a total of 172,577 persons were drawing jobless benefits last week as compared with 178,682 the previous week.

But at the same time the BUC reported that a total of 37,388 persons exhausted their benefits during the second quarter of this year—an average of almost 3,000 a week.

Since the first of the year a total of 34,894 persons have exhausted their benefits.

While the number of continuing claims are declining, the BUC reported the number of new claims filed has been rising steadily for the past four weeks. Last week 21,386 new claims were filed as compared with 18,081 the previous week and 16,881 four weeks ago.

Two Youths Await Hearing after Downtown Melee

Two Washington C. H. youths are scheduled for hearing before Juvenile Judge Robert Brubaker at 10 a. m. Saturday following a disturbance on Fayette St.

The two boys, one 15 the other 17, were picked up by city police. The two started fighting beside city hall and worked their way to the corner officers said.

A group of teen-agers were milling around the two when police broke up the disturbance. The two principals were turned over to Richard McMullen, juvenile probation officer.

They were cited with fighting on a public street and were released to their parents pending hearing.

Family Reunion Short, Tragic

SEATTLE (AP)—For Mrs. R. V. Hubbard of Seattle, a reunion with her mother Tuesday was short and tragic.

Mrs. Virginia M. Mitchell, 76, of San Diego had not seen Mrs. Hubbard for five years.

Stepping from a bus to spend the summer here, Mrs. Mitchell embraced and kissed her daughter. Then fatigue, emotion and age took their toll.

Mrs. Mitchell collapsed in her daughter's arms and died moments later.

473 Acres of Farm Land Brings $148,330 at Sale

Two parcels of farm land, part of the estate of the late Lizzie Tway, brought $148,330 in spirited bidding at the door of the Court-house Tuesday afternoon.

The tracts, containing 473.72 acres and appraised at $133,414 were sold by Sheriff Orland Hays on an order of partition issued by Common Pleas Court. The land is on Route 38, five miles north of Bloomington.

Approximately 250 persons watched the two parcels knocked down to the high bidders. The sheriff said a dozen persons made offers.

Maudie R. Groves and Mary Groves Gordon bought a 253.32-acre parcel, appraised at $68,396.40, for $77,760, or $307 an acre. The appraised price was $270 an acre.

The second parcel of 220.40 acres, appraised at $65,018 ($295 an acre), went to John Cannon for $70,570, or $320 an acre.

Sheriff Hays described the crowd as "the largest to attend a farm sale here in a long time."

Commentator Andreyev charged that American war planes make frequent "provocative flights toward Soviet borders."

BERLIN (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev delivered his standard lecture tour address to the East Germans Tuesday night, dressed up with the new sharp note for Yugoslavia.

The Communist bloc is getting stronger and will defeat "capitalism without war," the Soviet Premier said in the industrial town of Halle. "There is only one Socialist (Communist) country which is limping — Yugoslavia," he added.

"Great efforts must be made so Yugoslavia marches with us," he said.

Khrushchev will attend the East German Communist Party Congress opening in East Berlin Thursday.

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II, suffering from the feverish aches of inflamed sinus, has called in her mother to take over as hostess for Thursday's big summer garden party at Buckingham Palace.

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle wrote President Eisenhower today that he would be too busy to visit Washington in the next few months "but I am sure we will find the means in the future to see one another."

De Gaulle was replying to a letter of invitation delivered to him last week by Secretary of State Dulles during his trip to Paris.

SEOUL (AP)—The national police said torrential rains which finally ended today caused the death of 62 persons in South Korea and did damage estimated at more than eight million dollars.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The condition of Alojzije Cardinal Stepinac, 60, Roman Catholic primate for Yugoslavia, appeared under control after he suffered another blood clot in his right leg, his doctor said Tuesday night.

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Aichihiro Furiyama today asked U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II to arrange for him to visit Washington to confer with Secretary of State Dulles.

Foreign Ministry sources said Fujiyama would like to see Dulles in mid-September to discuss problems based on the changed world situation.

Eastside School Site Rezoning Plea Brings Protest; Decision Delayed

The city's Zoning Board of Appeals took under advisement three requests for rezoning the old Eastside school property, Columbus Ave. and Willard Sts., to commercial classification after hearing both verbal written and protests from nearby property owners at a meeting Tuesday night.

A 22-name petition against the proposal was presented to the board, and six residents of the neighborhood appeared in person to voice varying degrees of opposition.

The tract, which includes the now-abandoned Eastside building has been in a special school classification and may be rezoned for either commercial or residential use.

The board will consider the issue again next Tuesday night.

THE PETITIONS asking that the property be made a commercial area were filed by W. A. Smith, superintendent of city schools; Harry R. Roth, Columbus realtor, and George H. Sever, Washington C. H.

Elmer N. Reed, president of the Washington C. H. Board of Education, and Fred Rost, clerk-treasurer, explained that the board desired a commercial classification because the schools, seeking new sources of revenue, would realize a higher price for the property at a scheduled sale July 19 if it is rezoned for commercial use.

Roth, who indicated that he will bid on the property for development as a supermarket site, said that he doubts if the school property would bring more than $15,000 for residential purposes and that he is prepared to pay twice that figure if it is rezoned for commercial use.

He said that purchase by his firm would mean at least a $150,000 development and that an all-masonry building, as planned, would be an asset to the neighborhood.

Sever indicated that his plans are not complete, but he indicated that a drive-in bank at the corner of Columbus and Willard is being considered.

CITIZENS whose properties join or front on the school site objected to further encroachment by commerce in the area and observed that once the land is rezoned for commercial purposes, there would be no control over the type of building or kind of business establishments which would follow.

Earlier, Gov. O'Neill, told by newsmen of the newspaper stories (Cleveland Press, Columbus Citizen) called the reports "just plain false" and added that solicitation "is not going to be done and I shall again so instruct all concerned."

The Associated Press checked a few of the contractors who were low bidders in Tuesday's highway project bids.

Those checked said they had not been solicited for contributions.

Oliver M. Liggett, Division 7 engineer with headquarters in Sidney, made this statement today to the Springfield News:

"We have had tremendous improvement in the conditions of Ohio highways in the last two years and I feel it my duty to do all that I can to assure Gov. O'Neill's reelection."

"I anticipate I will collect (campaign) contributions and will be happy to do so. I am not a civil service employee so there is nothing to prevent my doing so."

"Highway engineers have always solicited campaign contributions in the past and will do so in the future."

Liggett added that he personally has not approached any contractor, but understood that some have made contributions.

5 Directors Are Elected For Auto Club

All eight directors of the Fayette County Automobile Club whose terms expire this year, were re-elected in the week-long mail election which closed at 4 p. m. Tuesday along with a new member of the board, Robert M. Jefferson of Bloomington.

Re-elected were Frank S. Jackson, who has been the board president; Ralph Nisley, the vice president; Colin C. Campbell, treasurer; Robert A. Craig; Troy T. Junk; Willard H. Perrill; Richard S. Waters and Dr. Fred D. Woollard.

The nine directors for the coming year were elected from a slate of 18 candidates submitted by the committee on ballots that were sent by mail to the approximately 3,300 members of the Auto Club.

Mrs. Fera Chaffin, who succeeded the late Howard C. Allen as secretary, said the newly elected board will meet "in the near future" on a date to be set by Jackson, the retiring president who was re-elected to the board.

At this meeting, she said officers for the coming year will be named by the board from its own membership, reports probably will be given by the secretary and treasurer, the past year's activities reviewed and plans for the coming year considered.

Highway Boss Wants Answer On O'Neill Day Collections

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Highway Chief, Charles M. Noble, began an investigation today of newspaper reports that his division engineers are asking road contractors to make contributions to so-called governor's day celebrations.

The governor's day events planned in various areas of the state are being held in connection with Gov. C. William O'Neill's campaign for reelection.

"I've asked no one to make any contributions, and certainly don't intend to," Noble said. "If there is any violation of any proper conduct on the part of deputy directors I will make an investigation of it."

Noble read the headlines and he immediately prepared a telegram that was sent to the department's 12 division deputy directors (engineers).

The telegram read: "There shall be no solicitation of campaign funds by any employee of the highway department, and no contributions shall be accepted by any employee from contractors or suppliers or anyone else doing business with the highway department."

Earlier, Gov. O'Neill, told by newsmen of the newspaper stories (Cleveland Press, Columbus Citizen) called the reports "just plain false" and added that solicitation "is not going to be done and I shall again so instruct all concerned."

Japanese Women Like Sack, Hamburgers, U. S. Furniture

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
While Americans make a vogue of Japanese food fashions and architecture, the modern Japanese girl prefers hamburgers, and wouldn't know how to get around in a kimono. So says Miss Shizuko Ohashi, editor of Japan's leading women's magazine Kurashi-No-Techu (which means "notebook for living").

"I have not worn a kimono in the last 10 years, except once, for a fancy dress ball," youthful Miss Ohashi said through an interpreter. "Older women still wear the kimono at home and in the evening, but most younger women work, and our rush hour in Tokyo is just as crowded as yours in New York. Can you imagine trying to ride the subway in a kimono?"

Miss Ohashi was dressed in a modish pink linen two-piece dress, cut on the latest chemise lines. She is in this country at the invitation of the U. S. State Department, under the educational exchange program, for a brief tour of American publishing plants and editorial offices.

She says the entire status of women has changed in Japan since they won the vote, shortly after World War II.

Most women in Japan make their own clothes, using western patterns, says Miss Ohashi. Few extreme styles are worn, the main goal of the home seamstresses being to turn out neat, practical garments suitable to their working lives.

Japan's great problem is its rapidly increasing population, she says, and for this reason modern Japanese women do not plan big families.

Miss Ohashi has been most impressed by the furnishings and appliances of American homes.

"There is no real furniture in the average Japanese home," she says. "We sleep on mats which are rolled up and put away in the daytime, so that one room can serve many purposes."

There is one more important change in the status of Japanese women, says this modern young editor:

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD

Below is a little thought about religious freedom. A growing amount of religious gossip about other peoples beliefs has prompted me to ask for the publication of this.

We are all God's children, all trying to help others and learn our lessons in this school of life here in the world.

Let us be tolerant of the beliefs of others and expect them to be the same toward us. After all God is the only judge of our true faith.

"Today I give thanks for the one Spirit of God, which is working through so many different creeds and denominations. I am not concerned with dissimilarities, but with the underlying bond of God's love that reaches with invisible hands from one to the other."

"I give thanks that there are so many types of religious beliefs which fill so many needs for so many people. I am glad that those who like formal worship have such churches to attend. I am happy that those who prefer simplicity find religions to satisfy their needs."

"Behind all the many approaches to religion — the intellectual—the emotional, the metaphysical, and the orthodox—I behold the one desire in us all to reach an understanding of ourselves and our relationship to God. I give thanks for the many methods of communing with Him which produce the same healing results."

Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!

Are You Happy? If So, Why?

HARRISBURG (AP) — Are they happy in Lower Paxton Township? If so, why?

This is what residents of the township are being asked in a questionnaire circulated by the Board of Supervisors.

"I admit this type of survey is rather unusual," Robert R. Roebuck, chairman of the supervisors said. "But it will help in making future plans for the growing township."

Ohio's Financial Status Needs Watching

The financial status of our state of Ohio, should be a matter of much interest to the people of the Buckeye State.

In figures and comment released by Treasurer of State Roger W. Tracey, there is a note of optimism over Ohio's financial picture after an analysis of the data covering the 10 months of operations which ended April 30.

People are glad to note that the state has wound up its fiscal affairs on June 30, in a strong financial position.

Treasurer Tracey said in issuing his statement — "Now that the figures portraying the financial picture have taken definite form, it is gratifying to know that others are subscribing to the belief that 'Ohio is not in bad shape.'"

Tracy cited figures showing that the sag in sales tax collections was offset by an excess of $12,505,888 over anticipated revenues from other tax sources accru-ing to general revenue fund. He also sounded a warning over the marked increase in expenditures during the past year, and urged that further suggested expense increases be given plenty of study.

"In mapping any plans for the future," he said, "our chief concern should be focused upon the existing situation. For example, the current level of sales tax collections may be expected to continue, dependent of course upon general economic conditions."

The year's operations showed receipts of $579,314,155 for general revenue purposes, and expenditures of $607,700,570. This reduced the cash balance by $28,386,415, to $102,964,121.

A comparison with the previous fiscal year shows revenues increased by $29,917,359 while expenditures were up $39,046,651.

Bora Bora: Hula Heaven

NEW YORK (AP) — "Bora Bora is green and cool and quiet," said Ramine.

Ramine, 18, is the champion hula dancer of Tahiti in the South Pacific. She is pretty and has the grace of a fluid, honey-colored pretzel.

"Bora Bora, where I was born, is 75 miles south of Tahiti. It is about the size of Manhattan Island, but not so large a population. We have 1,600 persons."

"If you went there you could live like a Tahitian for $50 a month — and there is nothing wrong in that. We do not have a parking problem on Bora Bora, as there are only seven cars."

"There are no psychiatrists. There are no worries, as there is nothing to worry about. Just have a good time."

"We have plenty of fruit and fish. We live in the palm and bamboo house. You can make such a house in one day."

"Everybody dance on Bora

Bora. You dance as soon as you walk. Our hula is different than Hawaiian hula, where they use the hands slow. We use more the hips—but very fast.

"You just go wild. Not bad. Just wild."

"Yes, we dance all the time. If you are cooking and somebody start tapping with his fingers, you stop and do the hula."

"Crime? They steal some on Bora Bora, but I don't hear of anyone ever killing anybody in my lifetime. Nobody even kill himself."

"If they drink too much, sometimes they beat the wives. But they don't murder her."

"Sometimes she need beating, too. She yell, she cry, and fight back, too. But soon it is all passed away, and they dance hula again."

"Life very comfortable in Bora Bora. Only thing you need money for is clothes, and you don't wear many clothes."

By Hal Boyle

"We have nice drink called pineapple beer. Delicious! Make you walk zig-zag, too. It take long time to make real good pineapple beer. Sometimes a month."

"It very cheap for boy and girl to go out in Bora Bora. They dance hula, drink all pineapple beer they want for 50 cents. No taxicabs. Make own fun. Nice evening."

Ramine had beginner's luck during her visit to Manhattan.

She went to the Belmont race track, bet on six races, won on five, and came home $90 ahead. She appeared on a television program and won a watch, a silver platter and a bottle of perfume.

"I like this island," she admitted. "It certainly fascinating." But she shook her long dark braids firmly at the suggestion she settle down and become a permanent resident.

"It's nice place to visit," she said carefully, "but I don't think I'd want live here."

Apalachin and Small Business

The investigation of Apalachin will undoubtedly produce a Roman holiday as obscure, robust, rotund, individuals, roughly referred to as hoods but often possessing bank accounts and credit lines which, more honest men envy, march before the public.

Most of them will have nothing to say under the Fifth or First or Sixth amendments to the Constitution, the Communist lawyers having set the precedents.

A closer study of the Apalachin phenomenon needs to be made than a congressional committee is willing to do. How does Apalachin fit into the private enterprise system?

What is the relationship between Apalachin and the constant appeal of government officials for small business?

How can small business accumulate capital, under our tax systems, in competition with the life insurance companies, the mutuals, the pension funds of corporations and labor unions, and similar immense and concentrated reservoirs of capital?

In some banks, it is said but cannot readily be established, that some officers run private factoring arrangements to get loans for some customers; this is an under-the-table transaction and is strictly crooked.

What Apalachin represents, in this system, is the legitimization of "hot" money by investment in normal industries. This involving old "bootleg" money which has to come out, dope and other illegal earnings, principally cash upon which no income taxes have been paid. Such money may be hidden here or abroad for years, but, to be profitable, it must come into the mainstream of business activity.

Much of that money has been hidden in Canada, Switzerland and Panama, Venezuela and other sanctuaries. A distinct business activity, engaged in by lawyers, accountants and other specialists, has developed in the transportation and deposit of such money.

The men at Apalachin may therefore be defined as marginal businessmen who engaged in marginal industries and services and who have to find means for investing funds in industries which usually do not attract big business and for which funds are unavailable in the great reservoirs of capital. This includes the immense garment industry, the transportation of clothing and food products to large cities, and certain phases of the leisure-time industry.

As some of the money these men use is illegitimate and needs to be covered up, because taxes were withheld or the money flowed in from abroad through unusual channels, these industries do their own policing, which occasionally involves murder.

They are still widely competitive in a semi-monopolistic era and employ such methods as were normal when John D. Rockefeller organized the Standard Oil Co.

The psychological response of all these men to the challenge of their lives and their activities is to develop legitimate businesses and for them to become respected citizens in their communities.

They contribute freely to charity; they buy thousands of dollars of tickets for public affairs; they associate with politicians and celebrities, often picking up the tab as it is called. The great ambition of their lives is to be regarded as "somebody."

But it is very difficult to get out of the rut of former relationships. The man who has a "record" is always fearful that his record will come out, that some newspaperman will pick it up and write a story; the man who has no "record" knows that the police and others are fully cognizant of his origin.

So those who do not pass from hood society to clean society live in a half-world of hoods, politicians, legitimate businessmen who are crooks, labor leaders with great public reputations who privately do as they can, smart girls on the make who prefer to be rich divorcees than poor but loving wives—it is a world of its own, with rigid rules as to loyalties, with competition for leadership and with men of business genius and competence of the highest order.

The center of this phase of private enterprise is in New York, which is the capital of the world of money.

As the enterprises of these individuals grow, they can no longer depend on their own form of banking, which is to give a piece of the enterprise for a consideration; they require usual banking facilities and they get what they need because their legitimate operations have good standing.

It would be smart for congressional committees to analyze the relationships of Apalachin to the difficulties of doing "small" business in the United States.

Termites Attack Wall

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Ashland's floodwall has been invaded by termites. The insects have eaten away a cork-like filler from the joints in an eight-block-long section of the wall. Floodwall Supt. L. E. McGuire says it will cost about $5,000 to replace the filler. About 290 seams will be refilled with termite-repellant sealer.

Diet and Health First Aid Treatment For Summer Injuries

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WITH the kids constantly on the go these warm summer days, it's only natural for them to collect a few minor injuries, such as animal bites and, of course, insect stings.

So let me give you a few emergency treatment tips for these minor summer hazards.

Most Common Injuries. Cuts and wounds probably are among the most common of these injuries. Applying pressure with sterile gauze at the site of the cut will generally halt the flow of blood. I'll give you some advice on how to halt more severe bleeding in another column.

Once the blood stops, you can apply 2 per cent Mercurochrome or one-half strength iodine and then bandage with sterile gauze. If the cut is deep or gaping, your doctor may have to use stitches to close it.

Chemical Burns. And remember, when iodine is used, it must always be removed with alcohol before dressing is applied. In some persons, even a weak iodine solution will produce chemical burns.

Bruises and abrasions are probably the next most common summertime injuries.

For a bruise, apply an ice bag or cold cloths for half an hour. If the skin is broken, treat it the same as you would a minor cut.

Treating Abrasions. Some abrasions might be dirty and need cleaning. In such cases, sponge off the area gently with mild soap and water, blot it dry and then cover it with 2 per cent Mercurochrome and, if necessary, apply a sterile dressing. In case of a sprain, the injured part should be elevated. Apply an ice bag or cold cloths immediately.

If the swelling is pronounced, and accompanied by pain, suspect a fracture. Run your fingers GENTLY over the point where you think the break might be. If it appears uneven, and is tender, don't move the limb at all, but call a doctor.

Stings and Bites

The sting or bite of just about any insect can be soothed by applying a wet pack of baking soda. The honeybee, remember, is the only bee whose sting is at all poisonous. This bee always leaves its stinger in the wound and it must be removed before the wound will heal.

For animal bites, wash the wound thoroughly with soap and water. Then rinse well with running water. Rabies, of course, is the great danger in such cases. Since the rabies virus is carried in the saliva of the animal, it's important to wash all the saliva from the wound.

Always take a bite victim to the doctor immediately and have authorities try to apprehend the animal.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. A. J.: Can any disease other than rheumatic fever cause a child's sedimentation rate to go up?

Answer: Yes, many infectious diseases can cause the sedimentation rate to rise.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN THEIR BOOK, Rascals in Paradise, James Michener and Grove Day tell about a learned gentleman in the '30s who clearly foresaw that a great war was about to engulf the world. After consultation with several top military men, he decided his only secure refuge from the world's insanity lay on some tropical isle, far from civilization.

So in 1939, one week before Germany invaded Poland, this wise man fled to his chosen, almost unknown South Pacific refuge. It was an island called Guadalcanal.

"What was the rank of that Navy man you were dancing with all evening at the country club?" demanded an anxious mother. "I'm not sure," answered the daughter coyly, "but judging by his actions, I'd say he was a Chief Petty Officer." (Sounds like a wolf in sheep's clothing!)

The Nation Today

By JACK BELL

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine's energetic lawyers and publicity men couldn't have helped their client more if they had written the script themselves.

A new political complexion has been put on what is currently the nation's most publicized inquiry by the weird, after-midnight episode of the "bugging" of a hotel room occupied by Goldfine's aides and the subsequent firing of a congressional investigator caught in the act.

The political cake was iced by the reported pilfering of documents from the hotel room of Goldfine's secretary.

Bernard Goldfine, the self-styled poor boy from Russia who became a rich, gift-giving friend of the mighty in public office temporarily is cast in a martyr's role.

He now can claim he is the intended victim of undercover operations that, as his legal and publicity experts helped him say, were "worse than being in Russia."

Baron I. Shacklette, the now departed investigator for the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, has said he was overzealous in planting a microphone at the door of a room occupied by Goldfine's helpers.

As a target for that action, the Boston industrialist has assumed the status of an underdog.

He is in a position to cry persecution when pressed about his financial affairs. He now can suggest — with a certain amount of public sympathy — that there may be some dirty business behind the inquiry into why he paid hotel bills for presidential assistant Sherman Adams, loaned him a $2,400 Oriental rug and gave him the vicuna cloth for an expensive coat.

Investigations usually are messy affairs. People don't tell on themselves voluntarily. Most tips come from enemies of those under investigation. The informer — or stoolpigeon, if you prefer — is an accepted source of tips in criminal inquiries. Hotel rooms have been bugged before, telephones tapped.

The public knows this. But it doesn't like to think such methods would be employed by a congressional committee. When any of them are, the suspicion arises that politics — and not fair play — is in command.

Because the Democrats control the congressional committees, they can't escape any odium that may attach itself to their staffs. The House subcommittee is in a bad light, its motives under suspicion. Republicans who wish to defend Adams have an opening to cry smear. Democrats can blame Shacklette and his "bug" for clouding an issue they believed might go big for them in November and in 1960.

Inspection Night At Forest Shade

Program Held
Tuesday Night

NEW MARTINSBURG — Forest Shade Grange was host to County Deputy Roscoe Whiteside and representatives of several other Granges at an Inspection Night program Tuesday.

Robert Creamer, master, presided.

Tax Boosts in the Mill Whether It's Mike or Bill

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Neither of Ohio's candidates for governor likes to talk about it, but most state government observers believe the no-new-taxes line is about to break.

It has been bending for several years.

Both Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill and his Democratic predecessor, Frank J. Lausche, have resorted to almost desperate measures in recent years to make ends meet.

During his last term as governor, Lausche employed the seldom-used device of dipping into the treasury surplus of the previous two-year period for 10 million dollars to balance his budget for the period which ended in mid-1957.

It turned out the controversial stunt wasn't necessary. Lausche was always an arch conservative in estimating state revenue. The boom business days from mid-1955 to mid-1957 poured money into the state treasury so fast that his last term produced another treasury surplus.

After needing Lausche for years over his estimate of what taxes would yield in state revenue, Republican legislative leaders last year were happy to see John A. Skipton, O'Neill's new finance director, come up with "honest" estimates of revenue.

But Skipton's estimate fell victim to an unlooked-for business recession. The first half of the present two-year bookkeeping period ended June 30. The state's revenue turned out to be about 7½ millions below the estimate for the first year.

That didn't mean a deficit because O'Neill and Skipton saw trouble ahead and ordered a spending slow-down by state departments. By reducing spending to the size of the state's purse, they were able to end the fiscal year in good shape.

But one trouble is ahead unless the pace of business turns more bricks—and quickly. The pace of business directly affects sales tax collections and the sales tax is the state's biggest single source of revenue. Revenue estimates for the coming year are higher than they were for last and sales tax receipts may be lower.

On top of that, the next Legislature in 1959 will find it is committed by law and long-standing state policy to find more money for the state school subsidy, poor relief and the state's expanding mental hygiene program.

The need for more state money combined with a thinner purse means more money must be found. The state's only source of money is taxes.

So, no matter whether O'Neill is re-elected or whether Democrat Michael V. DiSalle succeeds him, it appears likely the state either will be forced to levy some new taxes or increase present taxes. Most observers believe it is almost a certainty that the penny sales tax on purchases between 9 and 40 cents will be reimposed. That tax was lifted in 1947.

Another good bet is that another penny will be added to the present three cents a pack state tax on cigarettes.

Others point out that since Ohio liquor prices are now among the lowest in the nation that field looks like a green pasture for more taxes.

Pistol Death Probed

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—William Tomlin 23, of Niles, was killed by a pistol bullet Tuesday night and Charles Bass, 25, of Buckeye Trailer Court in Warren was wounded after he drove his motorcycle alongside an automobile occupied by Tomlin and two other men on Niles Road. The two men were being questioned by police.

Play Brings Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—What 13-year-old William H. Parry of East Cleveland thought would be fun—swinging on a rope attached to a girder in an abandoned power plant—proved fatal Tuesday when he slipped and fell into a 12-foot shaft.

WELCOMED HOME FROM MURDER SENTENCE—Cleared of a murder for which he had been sentenced to death, James Foster grins broadly as he is welcomed home in Jefferson, Ga., by his wife and three of their seven children. Another man confessed the murder.

Sister Trio Entertains Rotary Club

Three young school girls, blessed with charming personalities, who learned how to blend their voices in melodious harmony while washing dishes in their home, proved an entertaining attraction for Rotarians and guests at the club's luncheon meeting Tuesday.

The girls, Linda 15, Carolyn 13 and Patty 11, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William West, who live near Hillsboro.

Their mother acted as accompanist at the piano for some of their songs. Their program included many popular numbers, some old, some more recent. They closed by singing two hymns, "Cleanse Me" and "Blessed Redeemer."

Other numbers each one of which won enthusiastic applause from their audience were "Always," "Who's Sorry Now," "Ma Baby Don't Love Me No More," a novelty number, and "A-bay-com-a-Back."

The sisters were presented by Ralph Penn, July program chairman.

The trio has won considerable public acclaim, first on church and school programs and later at various club and radio programs throughout Southern Ohio.

A CLUB GUEST with Robert Lusk was Frank Price of Gambier student-assistant at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. Rotarians guests were Fred Trimble, Charles Corkwell and Rev. John Klein of Mt. Sterling. Another former local Rotarian, now a member of the Ft. Lauderdale club in Florida, was Walter Patton, who with Mrs. Patton is now visiting here.

Birthday greetings were sung for Ronald Cornwell.

It was announced that Rotary District Governor Walter Shade, of West Carrollton, is to visit the local club next Tuesday. He will meet with club officers and a committee chairmen at the Country Club for a conference at 11 a.

m. prior to the luncheon at which he will be the principal speaker.

The world's annual production of diamonds would fill about 75 bushel baskets, says the National Geographic Society. To attain one carat even a modern equipped mine must process about three tons of worthless rock.

Reds Explore Death, Means Of Revival

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet scientists, in an extraordinarily comprehensive way, are "exploring the problems of death and revival," an American doctor recently returned from Moscow said today.

Dr. Jean Henley of Columbia University medical center said she knew of no comparable program in this country.

She said in an interview that the Soviets are carrying on highly systemized research into the complex bodily changes that occur at death—and seeking means for combatting them to restore life.

"They're studying every imaginable thing that happens, from every physiological standpoint," she said. Biochemists, neuro-anatomists, neuro-pathologists and others are all coordinating their skills on the problem, she said.

Dr. Henley, who toured Soviet medical institutions with five other American women scientists, said she watched a Soviet experiment in which a dog, drained of blood and dead for five minutes, was brought back to life.

"It was a very impressive experiment," she said. "But I don't think it was world-shaking." She said she thought similar work has been done in the United States—although three minutes is considered here to be the longest period of death from which normal brain recovery can be expected.

An American Heart Assn spokesman said he knew of no identical experiments with like results.

NAACP Report Membership Drops in 1958

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 12 per cent drop in membership was reported by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People at its convention here, marking the first time in the organization's 49-year history that membership declined. Enrollment stood at 312,277.

"Factors contributing to this loss," the NAACP said in its annual report, "included: 'The stepped-up legal attacks on southern NAACP units; oppressive measures passed by southern legislatures prohibiting teachers and other public employees from membership in the NAACP; and the demand for publication of names of NAACP officers and members in Little Rock and other communities.'"

Fund-raising efforts by other branches enabled the organization to meet its budget despite the membership loss, the report said. The organization spent $790,722 last year — $63,565 more than its income.

EVERYBODY WELCOME

CORWIN CARR, SEC. DEM. EXEC. COMM.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
I have been greatly surprised recently, in passing through various parts of the county, to see the alarming spread of the obnoxious Canadian thistle.

In some instances there are one to a dozen patches (some rather sizeable) in wheatfields where they may readily be seen by the purple color of their blossoms, and the cottony seed growth.

In most instances farmers have sprayed and taken other means of eradicating this destructive plant, which chokes out all crops just as Johnson grass spreads and destroys crops.

Because of the winged seed of the Canadian thistles, and the fact that a small patch will send tens of thousands of seeds into the air, the pest is spreading more rapidly than Johnson grass.

Like Johnson grass, the Canadian thistles have running rootstalks, which mat together densely until everything else is choked out by the stranglehold the thistles have on the area where they grow.

In one field, just outside of Fayette County, I recently saw a 10-acre field of wheat which will not be half a crop, due to the inroads made by Canadian thistles.

In Canada I have seen entire tracts where all crops have been wiped out by these plants.

In dealing with Canadian thistles the old adage of "a stitch in time saves nine" certainly applies.

BIG HELLGRAMITE

"What kind of a varmint is this?" asked Mrs. Leona Tillet, 901 Washington Ave., as she walked into the office gingerly carrying a paper hat bag.

I took one peep into the bag after jokingly asking her if it had big teeth, a stinger or claws, and beheld the largest hellgramite I had ever seen.

The vicious looking insect, one of the largest native to North America, was nearly four inches in length, with four wings, 3-4 inch crossed "pinchers" or mandibles, and beady eyes that glared balefully as if reflecting the big fellows readiness to attack anything and everything in sight.

Of course it was an adult hellgramite, and it requires about three years for the insect to develop from the larval stage to the winged insect.

The larvae of the hellgramites are much used for bait for fishing and are found under stones and in streams.

When they leave the water they spend a month or more in the pupa stage, and then become the adult, winged insects, among the most vicious and repulsive appearing "bugs" in the country.

I turned the big fellow loose after he (or she) had been given the once over by numerous persons.

Incidentally the hellgramites are carnivorous, which means they are meat eaters and prey on other insects.

THE "HAUNTED HILL"

Every time I pass "Cherry Hill", also known as "haunted hill" located at the east side of Route 38 on the John U. Cannon farm (formerly the W. J. Selsen farm and later the W. W. Fenner farm) I want to stop and inspect the place once more.

I did that recently in the hope of finding something on top of the hill that would be a reminder of the past when a federal agent is said to have been murdered in an old inn that stood on the little eminence, and his body dumped into an old well.

I walked about what is left of the hill a mile south of Yatesville, since work of removing a large amount of sand and gravel for use on the Cannon farm has cut the knoll almost in half, and I inspected the various kinds of glacial stones which were in the sand and gravel.

The gravel deposit clearly shows that the little hill is definitely a moraine left by the last glacier, and not a "mound" as formerly believed.

The many stories of the "headless horseman" seen riding about Cherry Hill at night have always intrigued me, particularly since I "grew up" on the farm containing the hill and used to cultivate part of it.

It was called Cherry Hill because as late as 55 years ago it was covered with cherry trees. I have picked many wonderful cherries from the trees. They were delicious to a hungry boy, to say the least.

30 YEARS AGO

The city's budget for the new year was $89,552, and difficulty was being found in raising funds to meet it.

A move was launched to establish a hospital in Circleville.

A band of gypsies was rounded up at Jeffersonville and given an official escort to Greene County line.

Company M was preparing for two weeks camp at Camp Perry. Capt. Edward L. Williams was commander and W. B. Hyer, first lieutenant; Charles V. Sexton, second lieutenant, and Leo R. Boggs was top sergeant.

The wheat harvest was getting under way in the community. Following the robbery of the P&D Bank here, a wave of installation of burglar alarms in banks swept over this part of Ohio.

Dayton Power and Light Co's. purchase of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. distribution systems in many cities and towns was approved by the state.

The Miller Brothers Circus showed on Old Fairground here.

Work of rebuilding Route 10 (now Route 22 east) from the city to Bogus Rd. was under way, with the Hyer Construction Co. in charge.

Temperatures were ranging around the 90 degree mark.

Most of the crew of the ill-starred dirigible Italia were rescued from the polar wastes in the Far North. G. E. Gilliland Sr., formerly of Washington C. H. was drowned accidentally in Florida.

No Action Due on Four New Ohio Federal Judgeships

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aide to Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) expressed doubt today that Ohio will get any new federal judgeships before Congress goes home.

A pending bill to create 45 federal judgeships includes two each in Ohio's northern and southern districts.

"I would be astonished if the legislation were passed by this Congress," said John McElroy, administrative assistant to Bricker.

"The reason for the non-action is that the Democrats want to wait in the hope they will have a Democrat president so that he can make the appointments."

In a separate interview, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) disagreed with this line of thinking. Celler's judiciary subcommittee opens hearings on the judgeship bill Wednesday.

"I personally don't feel that way," Celler told a reporter, "and I don't know of any other Democrats who do."

"After all, three years would be a long time to wait for a Democrat to appoint these judges."

Celler said he is determined to get the bill out on the House floor for action. In the meantime, he said, the Justice Department is dragging its feet on filling vacancies on judgeships that already exist.

"There are 14 vacancies," Celler said. "It behooves the department to bestir itself on these before worrying about having more judges."

No such vacancies exist in Ohio, but the Judicial Conference says Ohio has a critical need for four new judges to cope with heavy dockets.

With respect to northern Ohio, the conference says that the typical civil case takes 29.6 months from the time of filing to the trial

Growing Pains Hit Canada; U. S. Suffers

Leaders To Look At Business Across Border

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Canada, like every fast-growing country, is suffering growing pains. And very humanly she is inclined to put the blame on others.

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker likely will be looking into some of these pains today and into how much American businessmen are involved.

Their dollar and cents involvement has grown enormously in the last few years and that is causing much of the pain and friction.

The two leaders also will look into trade barriers between the two neighbors — and into fears on both sides that some of them will be increased.

Canada's large industrial expansion has had to be financed in great part by outside capital. The United States went through the same phase many years ago and got much of the needed funds from British capitalists. The resultant control of many American enterprises by British subjects and the flow overseas of profits from these companies caused much resentment here.

Canada has got much of its needed funds from American corporations and American investors.

Long-term investments in Canada by U. S. corporations is now estimated at around eight billion dollars, up about two billion in three years.

The influx of American investments has also let Canada offset its unfavorable trade balance with the United States. They buy more from us than we do from them, and without the American investments there would be a dollar gap making the Canadian dollar shaky. Diefenbaker would like to buy less from the United States to help close the trade gap. Since Canada is one of our best customers, buying around 300 million dollars a month, American businessmen are disturbed at this proposal.

Blackfeet Stricken

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Six Blackfeet Indians have been stricken by polio during the past week, and Indian Health Service officials fearful of an epidemic ordered a mass vaccination campaign. Dr. Charles S. McCammon said plans are under way to inoculate some 4,000 of the Blackfeet reservation's 4,500 Indians.

Werewolf, Monster Epics Serious Fare For Teen-Agers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Does the younger generation lack a sense of humor?

Just asking. Evidence points to the possibility that today's young people have less capacity to laugh than their elders.

Take a look at the film fare. Today, the movie business is supported by the under-21 group; without them, the film companies would fold. What do the kids go for? Dillies like "I Was a Teen-Age Werewolf" and "I Married a Monster From Outer Space."

Older folks would laugh at such horror epics. But the kids take them seriously.

And what is the status of comedy on the screen? Poor Comedy used to be a standard commodity in films. Now there is only one comic turning out movies regularly and finding success—Jerry Lewis.

Comedy is also becoming virtually extinct on television. This, of course, cannot be blamed on the youngsters. But if they demanded more comedy on TV, they would get it. The demand does not seem to be there.

Take the other mediums of expression. The noisiest force among young writers today is the Beat Generation cult. Much of the prose and poetry of this group would disintegrate if read with a sense of humor. But the followers of the beat take it seriously, nay religiously.

The young people control the music industry today, because they're the ones who buy records. And look what they go for! The great mass of it is tasteless and humorless.

The new funnymen work mostly not in the mass media but in small night clubs, where their satiric barbs can be enjoyed by an enlightened few. You see nothing like the great clowns—Chaplin, Lloyd, Keaton, Skelton, those whose insight appeals to the great mass of humanity.

The new comedy is special, intellectual, even "slick." It's notable that a favorite of the younger set has been "sick jokes." Such as: "Aside from that, Mrs. Lincoln, how did you like the play?"

Where are the humorists, the pranksters, the fun-lovers of yore? Have they been beaten down by the age of uncertainty?

Or have they just been ignored by controllers of mass media? Let's hope only the latter is true.

During 1957, Canada produced about 360 million pounds of nickel, or approximately 75 per cent of the free world's entire supply.

Senate Looks At Sports Law

Baseball Stars Set To Testify

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate hearings start today on a bill to exempt major professional sports from the antitrust laws. Mickey Mantle, Ted Williams and Stan Musial are among the lead-off witnesses.

The initial hearing by the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee will also hear Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Eddie Yost of the Washington Senators, player representatives for the National and American leagues.

After today's hearing on the House-passed bill, the subcommittee plans to recess until next week.

The legislation covers professional football, basketball and hockey as well as baseball. It would exempt from antitrust restrictions player drafts, contract options, trades, territorial rights and other practices in the four sports.

It would not apply, however, to such commercial activities as ticket sales and ball park concessions and rentals.

The measure, strongly backed by club owners, is the outgrowth of a Supreme Court ruling that professional football, unlike baseball, is subject to the antitrust laws. The decision implied that other professional sports also have no exemption.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Senate subcommittee, has said that the bill as passed by the House is too broad.

He said he was inclined to favor the approach taken by a bill sponsored by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) but rejected by the House. It would have exempted from antitrust restrictions only practices found to be "reasonably necessary" to the sports.

WCH Horse Wins Feature At Lebanon

Tuesday night was "Washington C. H. Night" at the Lebanon Raceway—and to put the icing on the cake for the many fans who went from here to see the eight-race harness horse racing card, the feature event was won by a Washington C. H. owned horse with a Washington C. H. driver at the reins and the trophy was presented by a Washington C. H. couple.

Forecaster, owned by Mrs. Guy Bock and driven by Hugh Beatty won the sixth event, the evening's feature, a $500 class C pace, in 2:11 flat.

The trophy, a silver tray, was presented to the winner's owner by Mr. and Mrs. John Sagar, with Mrs. Sagar making the presentation to Beatty as he sat the sulky in the winner's circle after the race.

Sagar is the associate judge of the race meet.

It was the third win in 15 starts this season for Forecaster. He has finished second four times.

He paid his mutual backers $26 to win, $9.40 to place and $7.20 to show. Johnna Averill, who finished second, paid $4.80 and $3.60 and Dickie Joe paid $4 to show. Primrose Direct, the favorite, finished fourth.

Yank's Gil Minus Slump, Eyes Indians

NEW YORK (AP) —The New York Yankees' Gil McDougald, hero of Tuesday's American League 4-3 All-Star victory over the Nationals, hopes he will end his batting slump tonight when the Yankees play the Cleveland Indians.

The Yankee shortstop, whose sixth inning, pinch hit single drove in the winning AL run in Baltimore, is 0-for-18 in regular competition. His hit Tuesday, when he had a single against Washington.

Since then his batting average has tumbled 20 points to .284.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, with an 11-game lead over second place Boston and Kansas City, sends his ace lefty, Whitey Ford (10-3) against right-hander Cal McLish (5-5).

This is the only AL game scheduled on what had originally been an open date. However, a series washout in May set up this game and one of a day-night double-header Thursday.

The rest of the league swings back into action Thursday night with a two-night doubleheader at Baltimore where the Kansas City A's take on the Orioles, and single games with Washington hosting Detroit and Chicago visiting Boston.

Reds Get No Rest; Emplane For Seattle

CINCINNATI (AP)—Most men of major league baseball get another day off today, but Cincinnati's Redlegs move out for an exhibition game.

The team was slated to fly to the West Coast early today for a night game with Seattle's Rainiers—a Redleg farm team—of the Pacific Coast League.

After the game, the Reds are slated to fly on to San Francisco for the start of an eight-game western trip.

Bob Purkey, the Reds' winningest hurler who made the All-Star squad Tuesday but didn't have to pitch, is slated to start on the mound against the Giants Thursday.

Dan Morejon, the 27-year-old rookie brought up from Havana to bolster Redleg hitting, is slated to join the team for the western tour.

Eddie Wins Two

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran Eddie Arcaro, who rode four winners at Jamaica Monday, brought home two more winners Tuesday. He was up on Oiltan $3 in the fourth race and Isendu $14.70 in the featured sixth.

Joy in Mudville

O'Dell, McDougald Standout In AL All-Star Triumph

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy Pierce's arm tightened up in the bullpen so Billy O'Dell, another southpaw, went in to pitch. Gil McDougald had not made a hit in his last 18 times at bat and Manager Casey Stengel figured this might be the spot for him to "get rid of the collar."

Of such little things are All-Star Games won—and lost.

O'Dell, Baltimore's first bonus player, undoubtedly was the pitching star although veteran Early Wynn of Chicago was credited with the American League's comeback 4-3 victory Tuesday over the Nationals.

McDougald hit a pinch single with one out and two runners on base in the seventh inning, driving in Boston's Frank Malzone from second with the run that snapped a 3-3 tie. The Yankee infielder was called off the bench by Stengel to bat for Wynn, who pitched only one inning—a scoreless sixth.

It was the American League's second successive All-Star triumph and its 15th in 25 clashes. For Casey, it was his third summer success as compared with five defeats. A crowd of 48,829 paid $183,253.21 into the players' pension fund.

"It might be a bad omen," the grizzled Yankee skipper said. "Every time I win the All-Star Game, I lose either the pennant or the World Series 1 win in 1934 and lose the pennant to Cleveland. I win again in 1937 and lose the World Series to Milwaukee."

Casey praised three of the four pitchers he used—Cleveland's Ray Nardeski, Wynn and O'Dell. He said that Bob Turley, his own right-hander, who was clipped for all the National League runs before he was relieved by Nardeski in the second, was too wild.

"It just shows you that good pitchers can top good hitters," Stengel said of his guys who limited the National League's best power hitters to four hits, all singles. In fact, the Americans' nine hits off Warren Spahn, loser Bob Friend, Larry Jackson and Dick Farrell were all singles too, making it the first All-Star Game that was devoid of extra-base hits.

AL Pitchers Draw Raves In Annual Battle of Stars

BALTIMORE (AP) — All-Star freshmen Billy O'Dell of Baltimore and Dick Farrell of Philadelphia drew the raves of the veterans for their pitching in baseball's annual battle of the leagues.

Southpaw O'Dell wasn't credited with the American League's 4-3 victory over the National Tuesday. But he moved down the Nationals 1-2-3 in the last three innings.

In All-Star competition pitchers are limited to three innings apiece so the official scorers have some discretion in selecting a winner. Early Wynn, the aged White Sox right-hander, worked only one inning but he retired the Nationals in order and he was still pitcher of record when the Americans went ahead to stay in the sixth.

For that reason Wynn received the victory, fitting enough as it was his first in five years as an All-Star.

But it was O'Dell, 25 in his second full season with the Orioles, who caused American League clubhouse talk.

"He made all those National League batters look the same size didn't he?" said Manager Casey Stengel.

O'Dell was Baltimore's first bonus player when the city was returned to major league baseball in 1954 and its cheapest.

He threw fast balls and sliders to the full National League lineup and only one of them, pinch hitter Johnny Logan of Milwaukee, was able to hit one past the infield.

Ted Williams, playing in his 14th All-Star Game, lectured in favor of Farrell.

He said the 6-3 Philly reliever throws a "real live fast ball."

Farrell is from Framingham, Mass., heart of the Boston Red Sox territory.

"Now I can stop slinking down the alleys," he said. "I struck out Williams."

Farrell, 24, also is in his second full season as a major leaguer. In 25 games this year he has a 6-2 won-lost mark and an earned run average of 1.17.

"He's the best reliever I've seen in 10 years in the big leagues," said Gil Posedel, Phillies' pitching coach.

Farrell struck out four in his two hitless, runless innings. O'Dell fanned two. None of the vets could strike out a man.

Water Drenched Ohio AM Opens

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Because the Tippecanoe Country Club was too soggy from Monday's rains to permit play Tuesday, the Ohio Amateur Golf Tournament's opening was delayed until today and the championship round until Monday.

A field of 184 will be narrowed to 63, plus defending champion Bob Ross Jr. of Springfield in 18-hole rounds today and Thursday. Tee-off times today were set back one hour to allow extra time for the course to dry.

Porterhouse Set For Stud Duty

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Porterhouse, world record holding stakes star, has suffered a fractured split bone in his right front leg and will be retired to stud.

The 7-year-old Porterhouse was injured last Friday in the American Handicap at Hollywood Park. Porterhouse set the world record of 1:02 2/5 for five and one half furlongs in winning the Hollywood Express last year. His lifetime earnings total $519,450.

Titlist Don Essig Faces Rugged Field in Publinx

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — It's Don Essig against the field and a jinx today in the opening round of a natch play in the National Public Links Golf tournament.

Essig, who lives in Indianapolis and plays for the Louisiana State golf team, faces husky 25-year-old Walt Durdle, a park district greenskeeper in Peoria, Ill., in the first heat of man-to-man combat.

A double round today will trim the field of 64 qualifiers to 16. Two more rounds Thursday will set up the 36 hole semi-finals Friday, leading to the final Saturday over a 36-hole route.

The 155-pound, 6-foot Essig, a former caddy, is the defending titlist.

Essig also became medalist, winding up the 36-hole Tuesday with 144, two strokes under the stubborn Silver Lake course par for the distance. He was the only one in the field of 150 to break the standard.

Durdle, who shared the first qualifying round lead with Essig with 71, took 78 blows Tuesday for a 149 tally.

It took 153 or better to qualify, with 16 tying at that figure and playing off for nine allotted spots.

The three-man team championship, based on the low combined scores in the 36 hole qualifying, went to St. Paul. The team won the Warren G. Harding trophy with a 447 stroke total on 147 by Chet Latawiec and Gene Hansen and 133 by Dayton Olson.

Peoria with 445 was second and Seattle and Chicago shared third with 456 each.

Swine Training Meeting Friday

4-H Pig Clubbers
Principal 'Students'

The third annual training meeting for 4-H pig club members will be Friday, July 11 from 7 to 9 p. m. at the Fairgrounds according to County Extension Agent Phil Grover. Grover stated that this is a change in date from Thursday to Friday night due to a conflict of activities.

The swine training is open to the 84 pig club members who are enrolled this year and to advisors, parents and friends who are interested in learning more about the 4-H pig project.

A new feature of the training this year will be an official judging contest of three classes of hogs with prizes given to the winners. The contest will be divided into three divisions for adult men, adult women and 4-H members. Judges for the contest will be Charles Myers, Armour and Co., Sabina, Wilbur Bruner from Ohio State University and Bob Owens, swine breeder from Jeffersonville.

Other training sessions on the program include "Feeding Pigs 10 Days Prior to Fair and During Fair Week" by Charles Andrews; "Necessary Fair Equipment for Pigs" by Gene Gustin; "Grooming of the Pig" by Paul Shepard and "Showing of the Pig" by David Carr.

Ham sandwiches, potato chips and cold drinks will be served with compliments of the Fayette County Pork Producers Assn.

Right to Work Endorsed by Selden Grange

Three new members were added to the roll of Selden Grange at the regular meeting Tuesday night. They were Mr. and Mrs. Max Bobst and Sammy Wallace. Obligations were administered by the Master, Ralph Nisley.

The Grange voted a contribution to the linen fund of Memorial Hospital. This is part of the Grange's community service work.

The master announced that the Fayette County Fair was rapidly approaching and reminded the Grangers that Saturday is the last day for making entries. Preparations for the Fair are progressing satisfactorily, he said and noted that a new hog barn has already been built cooperatively by the swine associations and the Fair Board.

The proposed "Right to Work" amendment was discussed. The amendment provides that "no employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state." All comments were in favor of the proposal and a motion by which Selden Grange endorsed the amendment was adopted.

The lecture program on "Our Constitution" was presented by Mrs. Mary Ann Morter. She read a brief history of the Constitution and an article on the provisions of its preamble, written by a naturalized citizen. She brought out that so often the Constitution is so much more appreciated by naturalized citizens than by those who inherited its advantages from their forefathers.

This was followed by a quiz on the Constitution in which all took part. It emphasized "dependence on this fundamen law of the land, and that if we are careless of its preservation, we may lose it some time and, with it, our freedom and our democracy."

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rummans, Mr. and Mrs. Marilyn Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Marting, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brandenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brannon, Mrs. Joe McFadden, Mrs. Anna McFadden and Harold Moats.

Daves Re-elected Chairman Of Retail Merchants Group

Jack Daves (Seated) and Larry Soldan

Jack Daves, manager of Sears Roebuck Co., has been unanimously re-elected chairman of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Larry Soldan, owner of Soldan's Women Apparel, was appointed by Daves under a new rule to serve as vice chairman.

Other items considered at the monthly meeting Wednesday morning included the report of the parking committee, appointment of a promotion committee, setting a sales clinic date and discussion of other merchant problems.

The committee voted on a rule to allow the chairman to appoint his vice chairman. Before this vote the vice chairman had been elected by the committee.

DAVES, in accepting the position for the second year, said "Most of the progress made during the past year has been due to the spirit of cooperation that exists among Washington C. H. merchants."

Daves appointed a promotion committee for the coming year consisting of Gilbert Crouse, Al Heer, A. Russell Hinchey, Robert Craig and Thurl Campbell. The parking committee reported that several off-street locations have been considered to help solve the downtown parking problem with some progress being made.

Members of the parking committee are Thurl Campbell, Ralph Cook, C. of C. Manager William Stoughton, Jack Daves and Robert Craig.

The Ohio Council of Employee Relations will conduct a three-hour clinic on Sept. 22 for all merchants and their sales personnel.

Stolen Car Found Here, Abandoned on Court St.

A 1949 Cadillac abandoned on East St. since noon Tuesday was towed to Phillips Garage Wednesday morning.

A check by city police showed the car was stolen from John Echols at Lancaster, Tuesday morning.

Police said Echols had been notified and that he told them he would come here to get it Wednesday.

New Jersey was the only northern state not to abolish slavery before 1850. It had 236 Negroes in bondage that year.

Charitable Unit Will Send Girls to Camp

The Fayette County Charitable Foundation will send 13 girls to Camp Louella May, a YMCA camp near Middleton in August.

Thirteen boys were sent by the Foundation to Camp Campbell, a YMCA camp near Hamilton, early in July. The boys and girls from Fayette County are chosen by Richard McMullen, probation officer of the Juvenile Court.

They are outfitted with swimming trunks, shoes, bed clothing, levis, towels and all necessities, according to L. M. Hayes, a member of the board.

Tom Swaim is a swimming instructor at Camp Campbell this summer. Charles Hise is a senior counselor at the same camp.

Several youths have gone to the YMCA camp for one or two weeks this summer, but they were not sent by the Foundation.

Among them were Skipper Curl, Gary Ware, John Coffman, Bruce Core, Allen Griffiths, and Ronald Rienke.

Bulgaria, the Balkan republic, has less than half its 42,796 square miles under cultivation. However, one-third of the country is in forests.

Disorderly Conduct Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of disorderly conduct filed against Bob Cline, 21, of 818 Rawlings St., was dismissed in Municipal Court Wednesday.

His wife, Mary, had filed the charge Tuesday evening with city police. After Cline had spent the night in city jail the charge was dismissed.

Mrs. Cline was permitted to withdraw the charge by Municipal Judge Max Dice on the condition the payment of court costs be made.
